

For each of the people listed below, explain whether a push factor or a pull factor is causing them to move on a sheet of paper. When you have finished, pick the three people that you believe deserve to move the most. Explain why you picked these people.

Jacques Luvmoney example
I am a 29 year old French man who has lost all of my money in a bad business decision. I owe a lot of money to many stores and bars, and my house was recently taken as an action to help pay my debt. My wife and I do not get along, and I have lost all hope in France. I need to get away to a new place, and I feel that I would do great things in America because I know how to trap fur and I want to meet new people. I also love the freedom of choices and opportunities available to me there!

Carlos Montenegro
I am a young Catholic who has great ideas for the future. I want to go to the New World because I have seen Spanish explorers bring home bags of gold and riches and I want some for myself! I also am a strong Catholic and want to spread my religion to the native people there. I want to leave Spain because I cannot find a job here and I have no money. I also do not like my King and I want freedom. I want to bring my new wife over to America once I have made it rich.

Hanz Gurkler
I am a young Dutch man, and I want to leave Holland because I have no freedom here, and I am not allowed to practice my religion. I want to be a Protestant, but the Catholic King will not allow me, or anybody, choose our own religion. I cannot get a job because nobody will hire a Protestant. I want to go to the New World because I want to worship my God as I choose, and I want the freedom of having no

King. I also want to build my own home and hunt the natural animals. I also think that I might be able to bring native people to my religion.

Christopher Walter

I am a 30 year old English man, and I want to leave England because I am a Puritan, and my King will not allow me to practice my religion as I want to. In the New World, people can choose their religion and have lots of space to move around. There are also animals to hunt and lots of food. I can't get a job here in England because no one will hire me. However, I even already have a job in the New World! I have agreed to work for three years in return for a free trip to the New World!

Pierre Baptiste

I am a young man here in France, but I want to go to the New World. I am facing discrimination because of my religious beliefs, and because I do not support the current King. My house has been burned down, and all of the violence in the streets is awful! In the New World, there is lots of space and freedom for people to do what they want and build homes for themselves. I want to make a new life! There are lots of economic possibilities in the New World, and I want to find them!

Felipo Popo

I am a young Portugese Catholic priest. I have worked for a few years convincing people to join my Catholic religion, but I do not have much space because I share my house and I don't like the food I eat here. I want to go to the New World because I want to convert native people there to become Catholic, I want more space for myself and I want to hunt and cook my own food. In America, there is lots of space and animals to hunt, and many people looking for God. I am ready to go!
